rnal - Office of Legislative Counsel sday - 25 January 1977	age 2	STA
nette Blandin, OMB, any concerns which that office might have rour discussions with the Securities and Exchange Commission and gressional committees on a bill, S. 305, by Senator William Pr., Wis.), that would establish criminal penalties for corporate by would expand corporate reporting requirements under the Security Exchange Act. Ms. Blandin said she had been unable to discer ministration position on this legislation and cautioned that we keep orts to amend and monitor this bill low key and as informal as is the time being. Ms. Blandin also promised to keep us informed this bill or its outlook in the Congress.	d relevance oxmire ribery rities nany ep our s feasible	е Division, to a briefing of Elliot Maxwell, Senate Select Committed Illigence staff, on the Dominican Republic. Maxwell, who is Senater Huddleston's (D., Ky.) designee on the Select Committee, s	ator	J STA STA on one of the all	our discussions with the Securities and Exchange Commission and ongressional committees on a bill, S. 305, by Senator William Proc., Wis.), that would establish criminal penalties for corporate bild would expand corporate reporting requirements under the Security Secundary Se	6. (Internal Use Only - RJK) LIAISON Accompanied A Division, to a briefing of Elliot Maxwell, Senate Select Committee on telligence staff, on the Dominican Republic. Maxwell, who is Senator alter Huddleston's (D., Ky.) designee on the Select Committee, said the

Approved For Release 2005/12/05 : CIA-RDP82M00345R000700020118-7 two addendance.

of the bill, and EO Heed with the 17 May 1973 NSC implementing directives and